The median, the maximum, the minimum, and the range

- Salary Range
Lecturer salaries in France range from 32,700 EUR per year (minimum salary) to 110,000 EUR per year (maximum salary).
- Median Salary
The median salary is 73,700 EUR per year, which means that half (50%) of people working as Lecturer(s) are earning less than 73,700 EUR while the other half are earning more than 73,700 EUR. The median represents the middle salary value. Generally speaking, you would want to be on the right side of the graph with the group earning more than the median salary.
- Percentiles
Closely related to the median are two values: the 25th and the 75th percentiles. Reading from the salary distribution diagram, 25% of Lecturer(s) are earning less than 47,800 EUR while 75% of them are earning more than 47,800 EUR. Also from the diagram, 75% of Lecturer(s) are earning less than 97,200 EUR while 25% are earning more than 97,200 EUR.

What is the difference between the median and the average salary?

Both are indicators. If your salary is higher than both of the average and the median then you are doing very well. If your salary is lower than both, then many people are earning more than you and there is plenty of room for improvement. If your wage is between the average and the median, then things can be a bit complicated. We
